On the heART of Medicine: Reflecting on the Things that Matter

Dr. Ranjana Srivastava from Melbourne, Australia is a medical oncologist, educator, award-winning writer, and a columnist for The Guardian newspaper. Dr. Srivastava is a former MacLean Center fellow, is active in shaping doctor-patient communication skills training, and has written widely on the subject of medicine, ethics, and the doctor-patient relationship.

She has written several books including, Tell Me the Truth: Conversations with my Patients about Life and Death and Dying for a Chat: The Communication Breakdown Between Doctors and Patients.

SPEAKER
Ranjana Srivastava, MD
Melbourne, Australia

TIME
Thursday, January 29, 2015
5–6:30 p.m.

LOCATION
Billings Auditorium P-117

Refreshments will be served

Please RSVP to bucksbaum-ranjanas.eventbrite.com or call 773-702-3906